FOREWORD

Long after our academy days have faded into a dim memory of our joyful years, certain scenes will linger in our busy minds.

When, for some reason, either in returning to our beloved school or by a strange quirk of fate, we again shall see these meaningful scenes, we shall turn back the hands of time and remember with mingled joy and sadness our wonderful years at Prince Edward Academy--the assemblies, the football and basketball games, the Homecomings, the classes, the guidance of our esteemed faculty and most of all the cherished friendships made during these most precious years.

Through the pages of this, the 1961 CAVALIER, are portrayed these and many more of the scenes which will serve in the years to come as a reference to the times "We'll Never Forget. . ."

We'll Never Forget...

Mr. Pearson welcomes the students back to another year at the Academy.

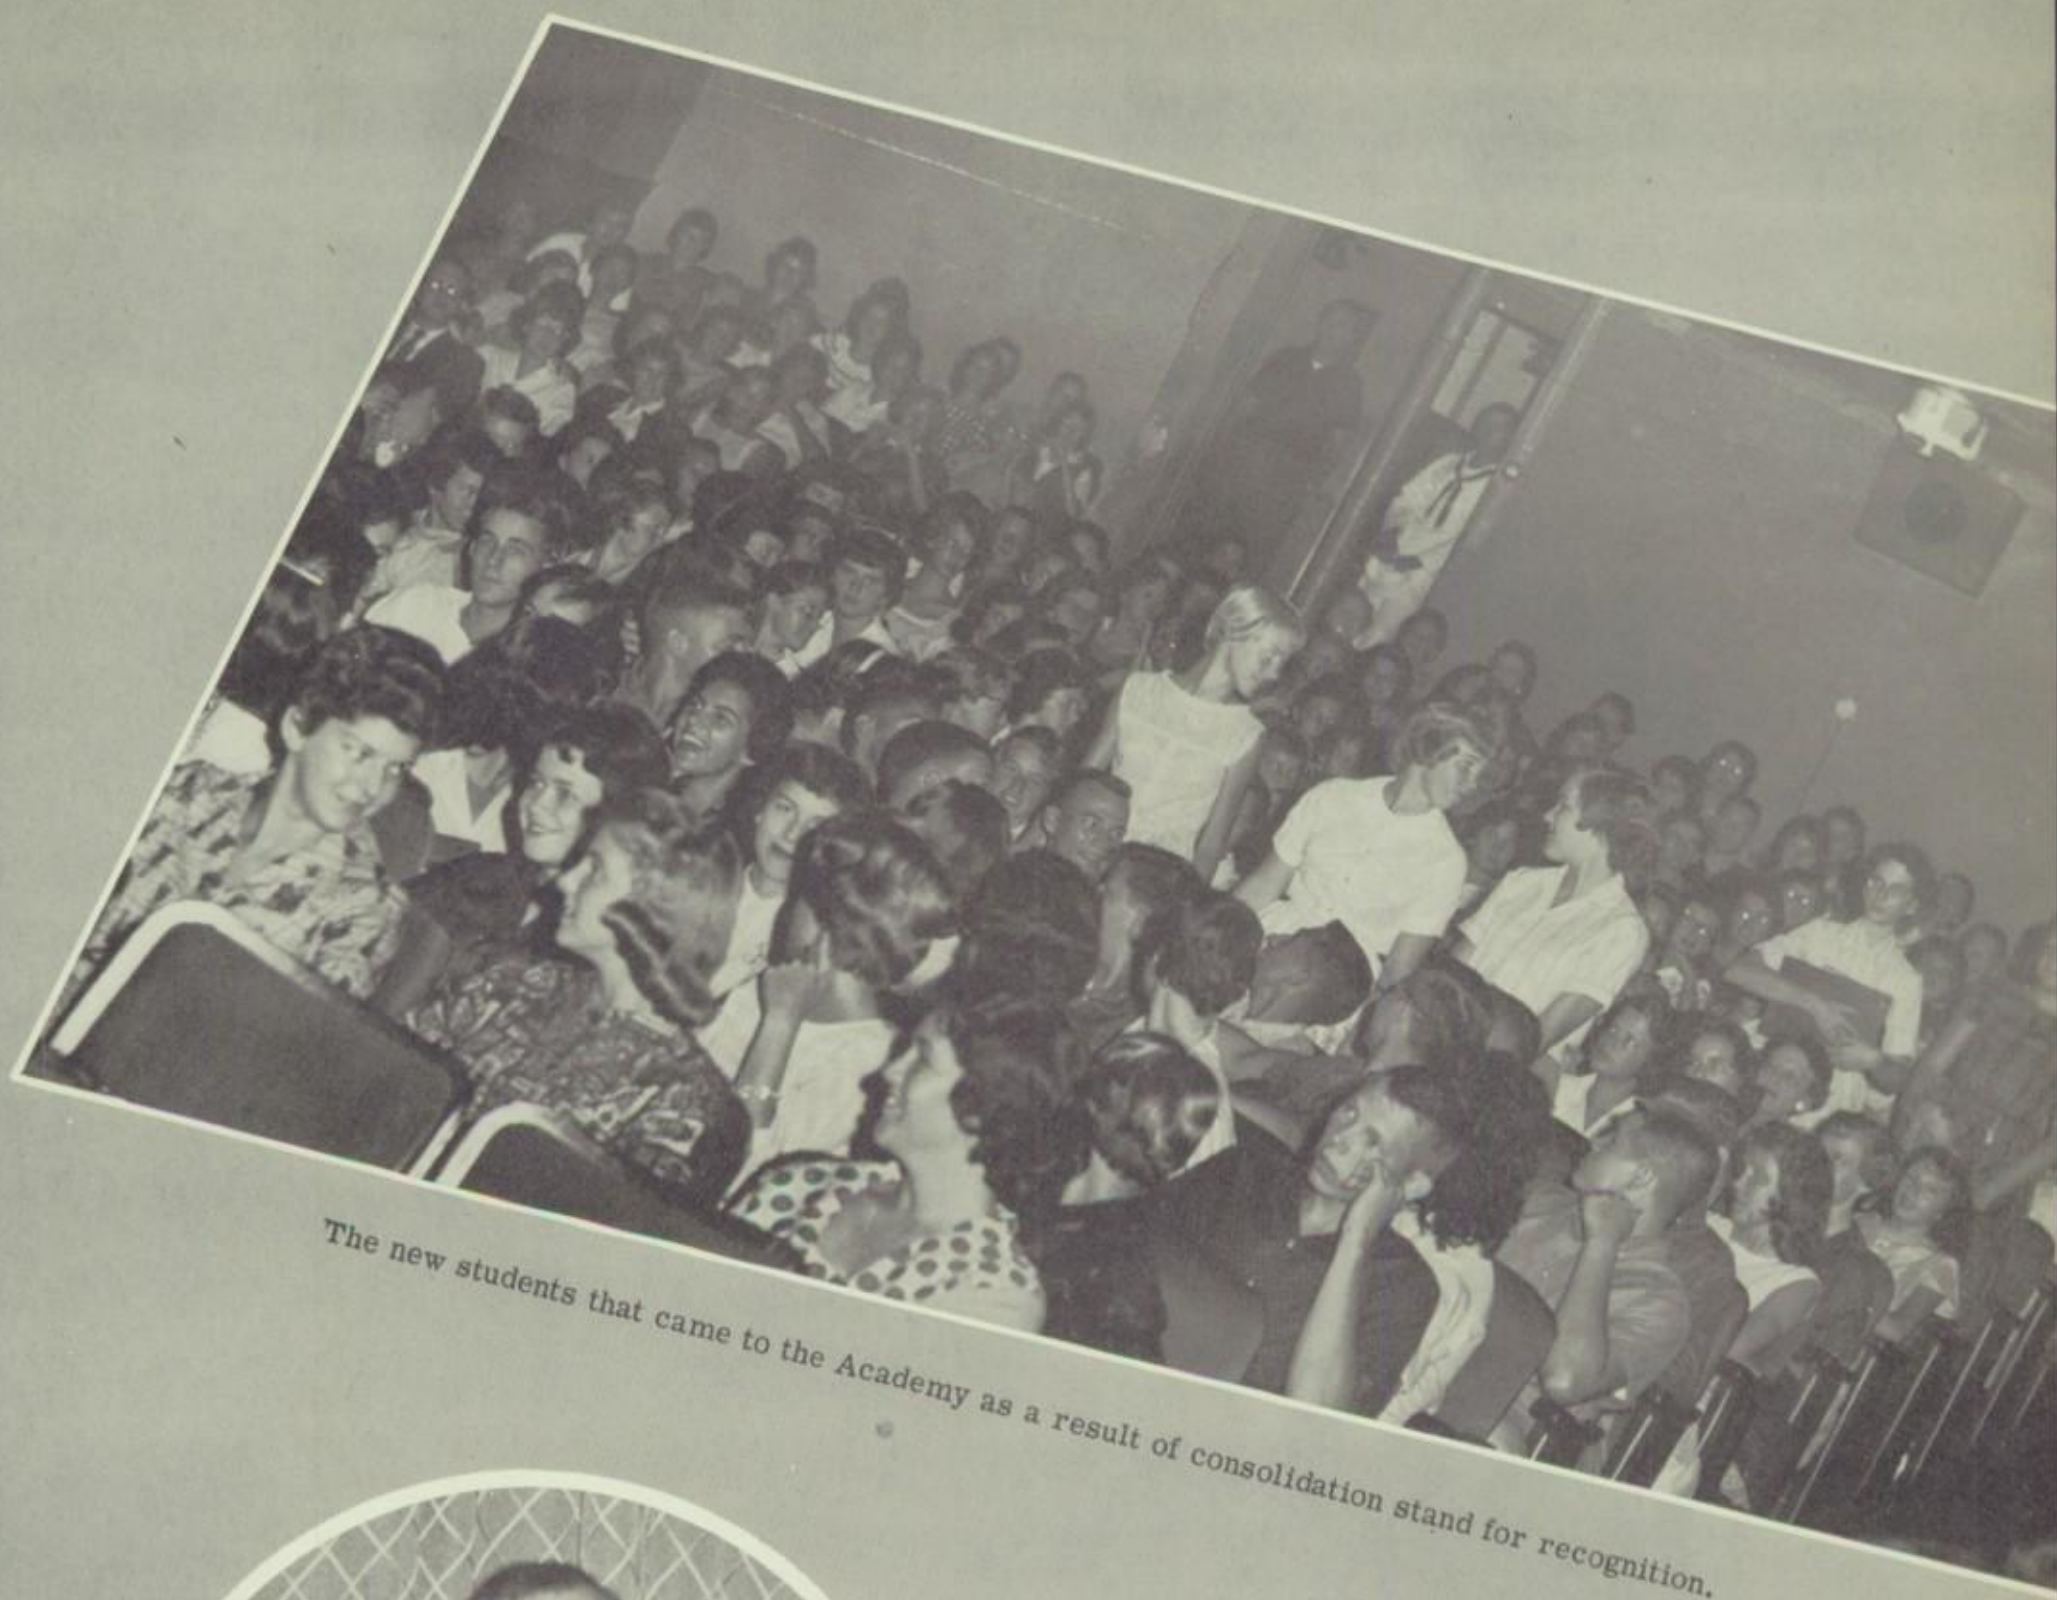

The Seniors, led by Ginger Fahrner, are the first to leave the assembly.

The Juniors file out of the State Theater on their way to assigned Home Rooms.

The new students that came to the Academy as a result of consolidation stand for recognition.

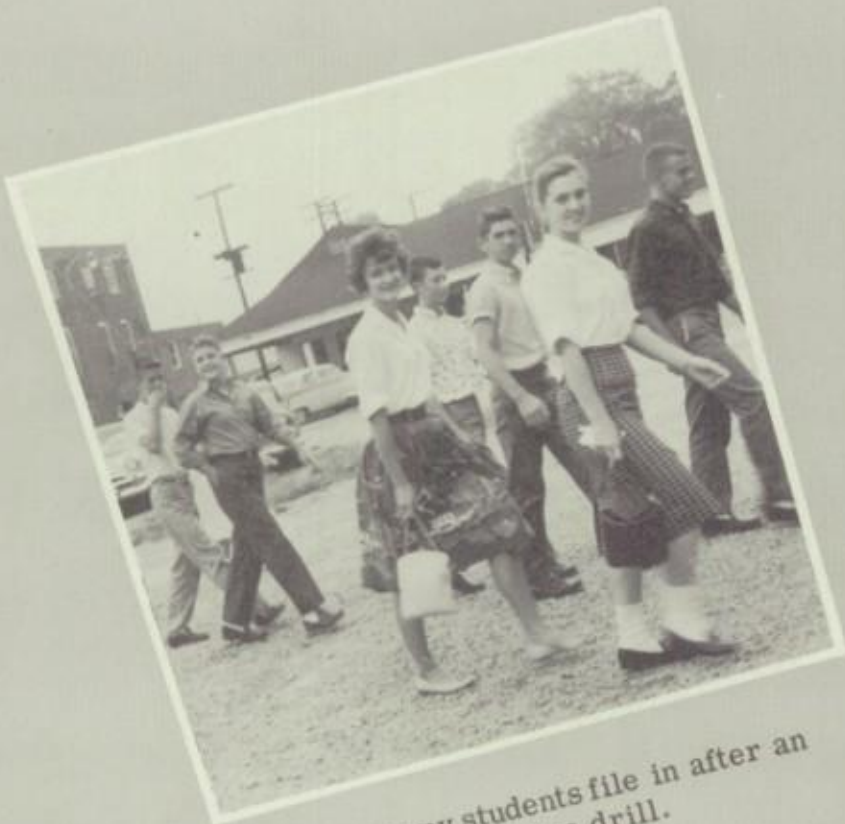

Mayor Watkins speaks to the Academy students about the importance of the coming school year.

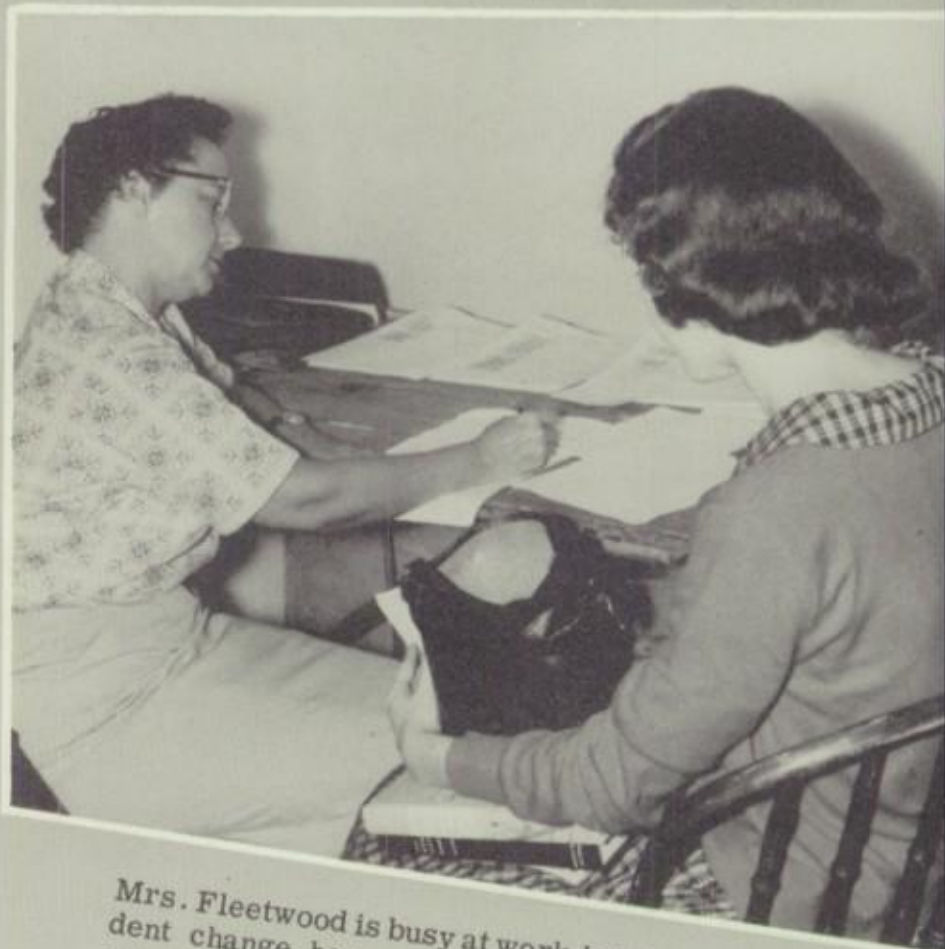

The new 8th grade students stand to be recognized.

Day

... Our School Days

Academy students file in after an unannounced fire drill.

Mrs. Fleetwood is busy at work helping a student change her schedule for the coming school year.

The halls are jammed in the between-classes rush.

Another hard day's work is complete for the students at Prince Edward Academy.

In The Familiar Buildings.

The Prince Edward Academy Library was created in August 1959. Its first breath came with its first book--The Sovereign States, written and given by Mr. J. J. Kilpatrick, Editor, Richmond News Leader. An appeal for books and money through many state and local papers brought an incredible response. Gifts poured in from about sixteen states--north to Massachusetts, west to California, south to Florida. Naturally Virginia gave the most--our county residents generously sharing their libraries. Its collection is balanced in all classifications of books. The contribution of up-to-date reference books and dictionaries is helpful. With our enrollment of 461 the library averages about 12 books per pupil--the minimum state standard being 8 per pupil for accredited libraries. The quality of our books rather than quantity and library service to our students, teachers, and other patrons are our main concern.

Busy Seniors are at work using the new typewriters.

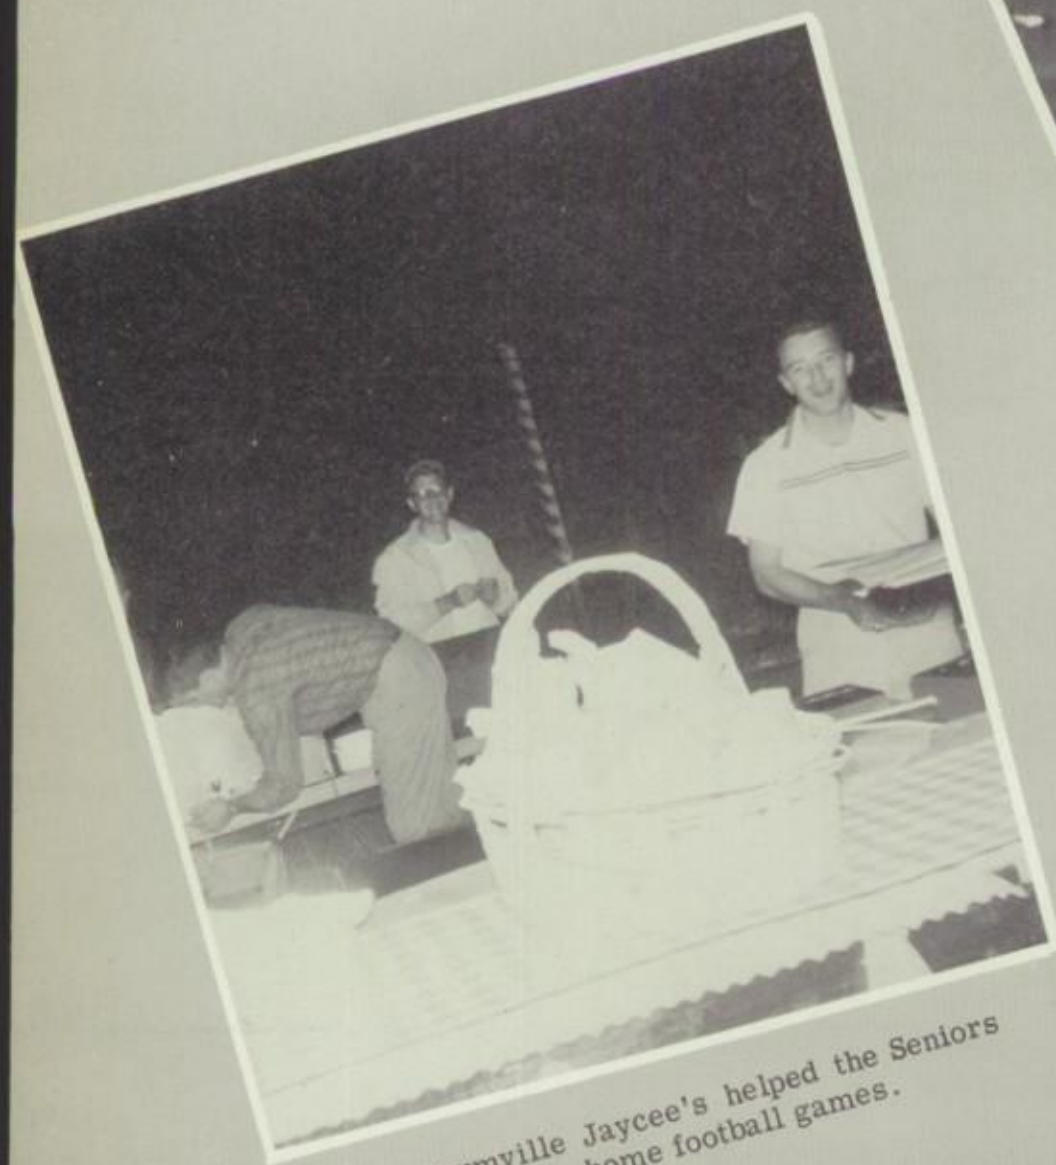

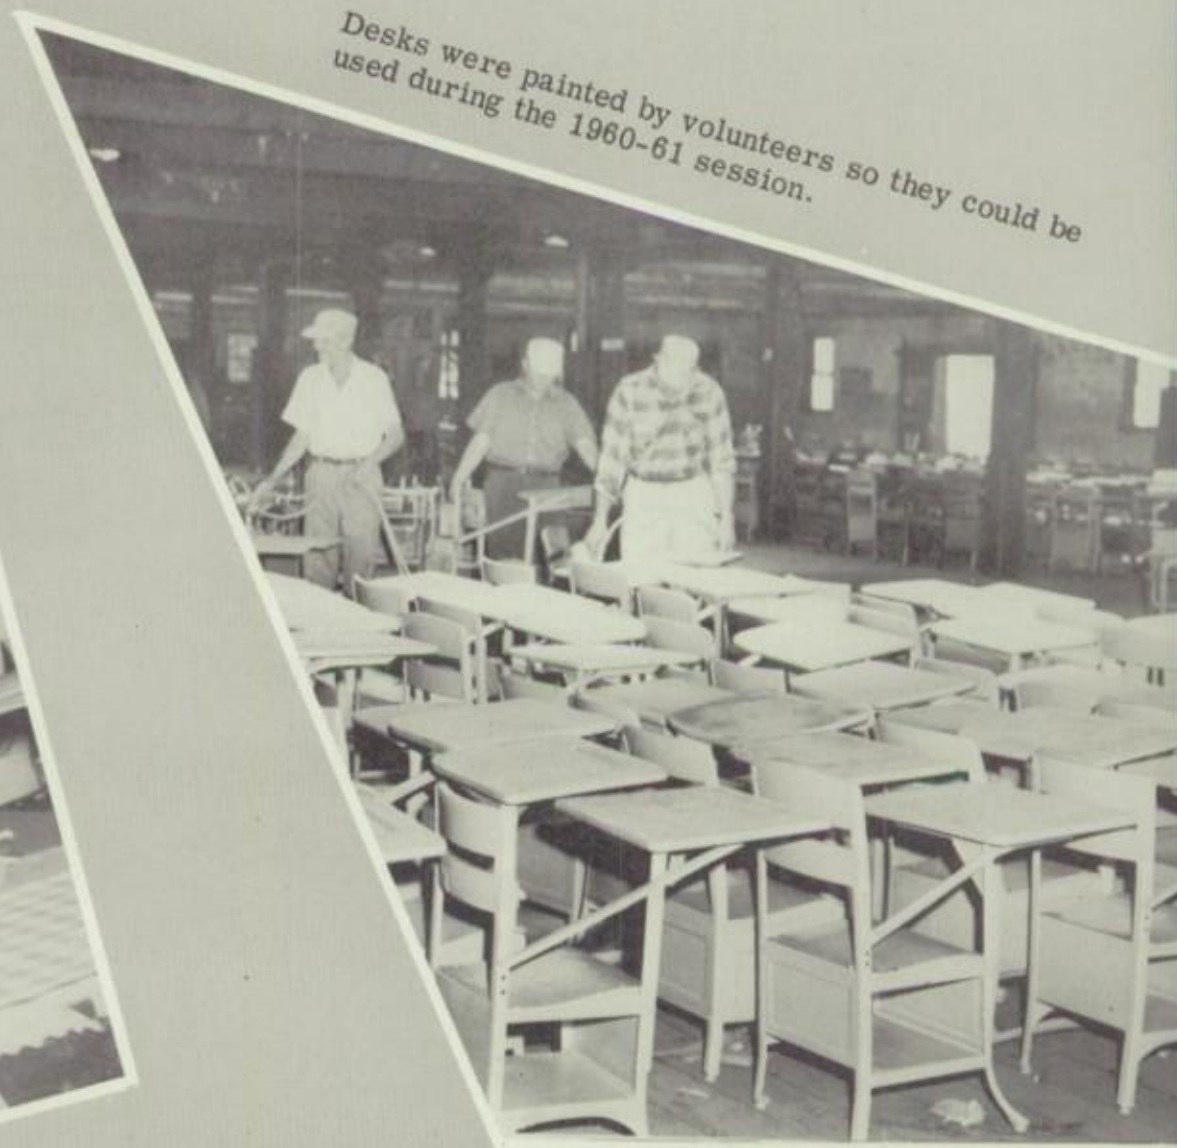

New experiments are tried by Anne Lynn and Bobby Gilmer as Mr. Austin observes.

The executive board of the Prince Edward School Foundation, consisting of R. E. Taylor, T. W. Brooks, W. J. Gills, Jr., B. B. Hanbury (President), J. B. Wall, Jr., E. L. Dahl, and C. W. Glenn, contributed greatly to the success of the school year.

Desks were painted by volunteers so they could be used during the 1960-61 session.

The Farmville Jaycee's helped the Seniors sell food at the home football games.

... Those Who Helped Us

The parents and teachers who attended the P.T.A. meetings contributed greatly to another successful school year.

Co-operative volunteers erect the bleachers for the coming football season.

Max Ward, representative of Delmar, snaps individual school pictures for the CAVALIER.

Through The Year

... Our Athletic

These hard-working Wolverettes are out for that big Friday-night game.

The hard-playing Wolverines ended their gridiron season with a 7-3 record.

TOP: The backs work tirelessly for hand-off precision.

BOTTOM: Those times at practice were rough when everything had to be done right.

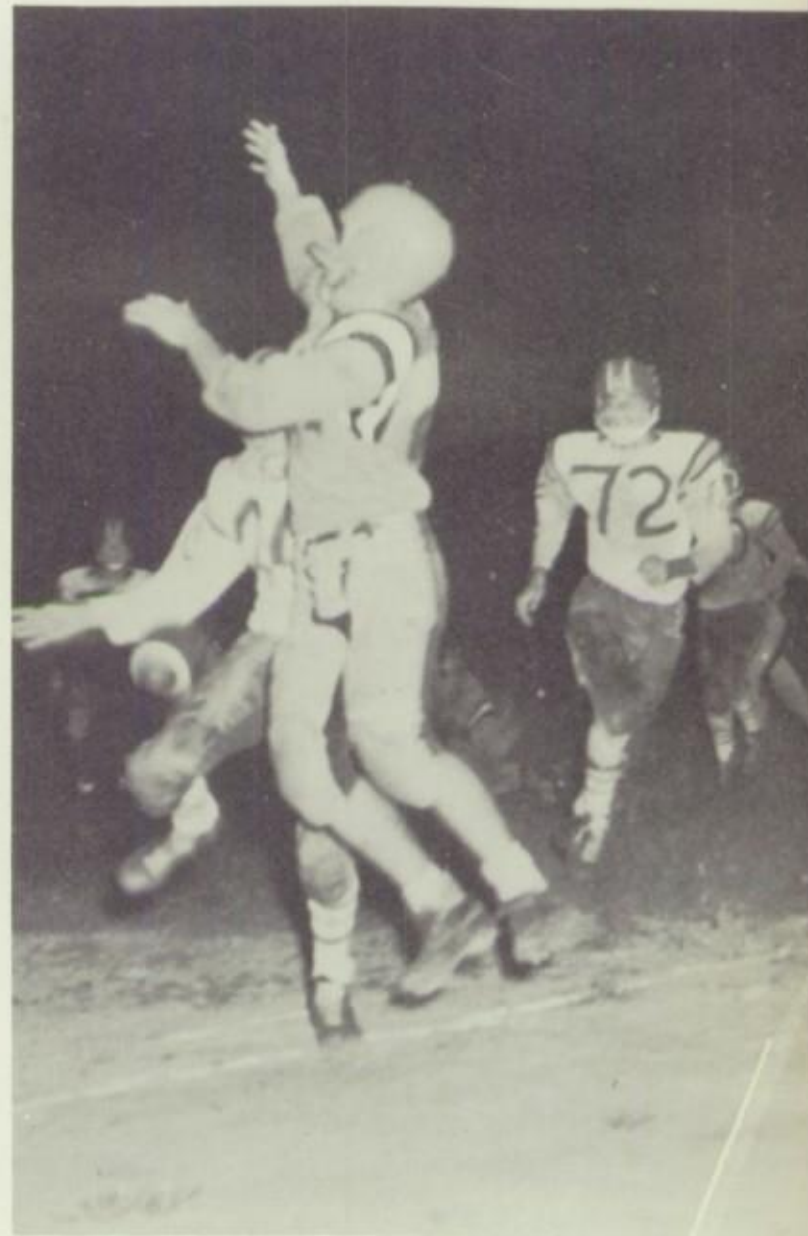

The Prince Edward Academy Cagers battled the Crewe Railroaders to a 56-41 victory.

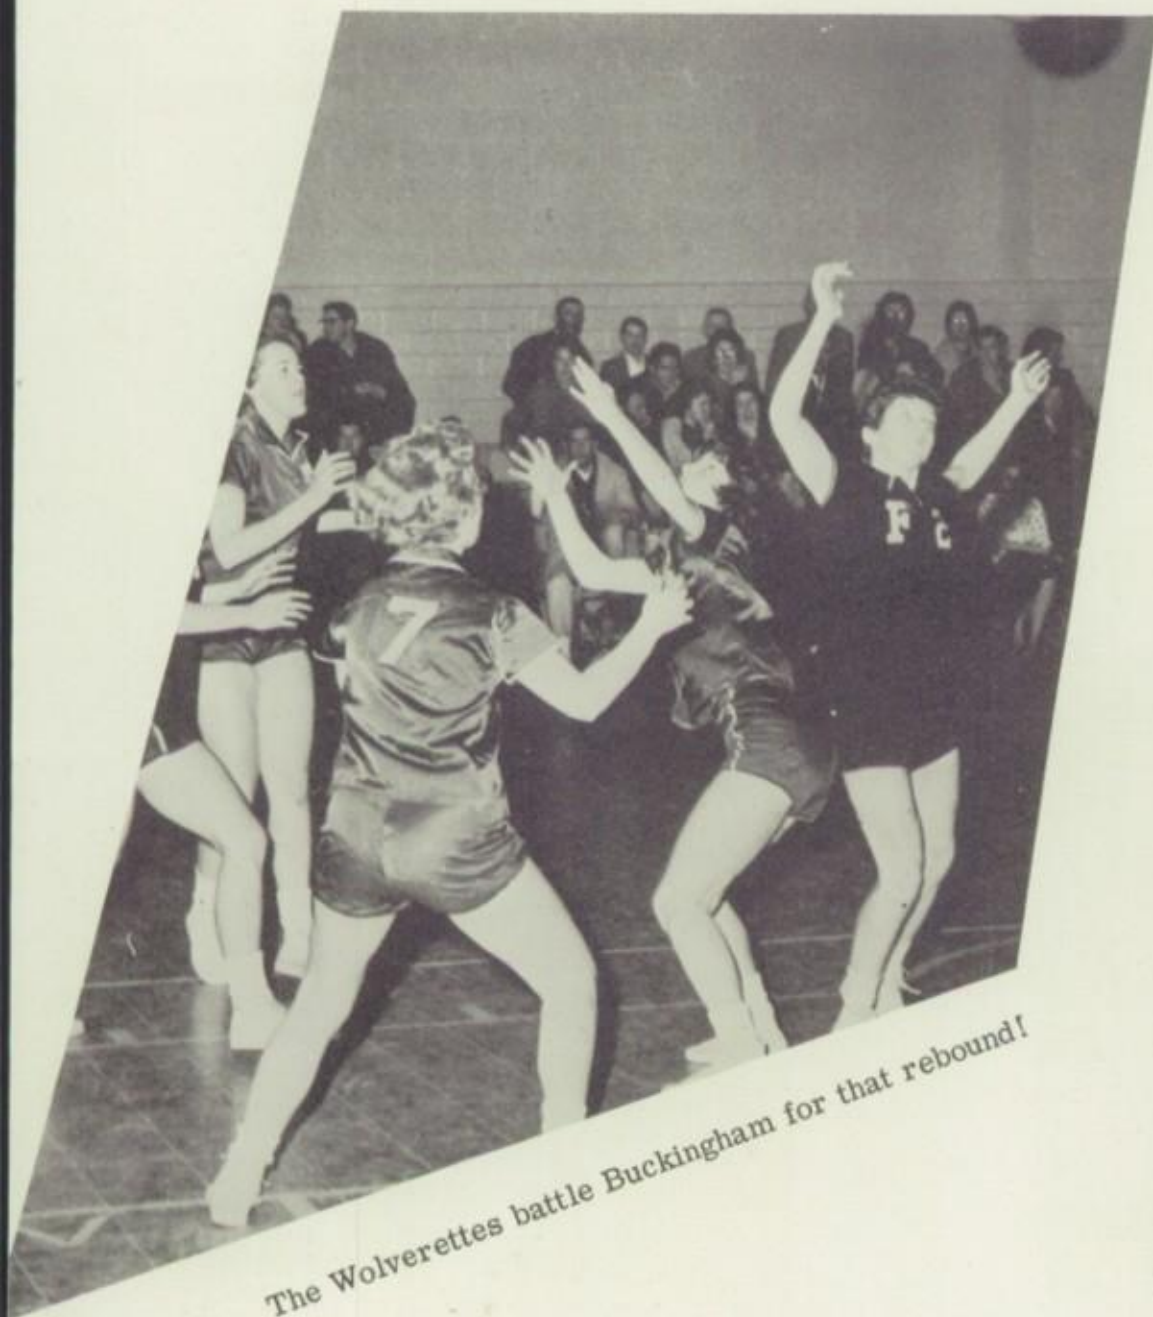

Events

The Wolverines believe that "Practice makes perfect".

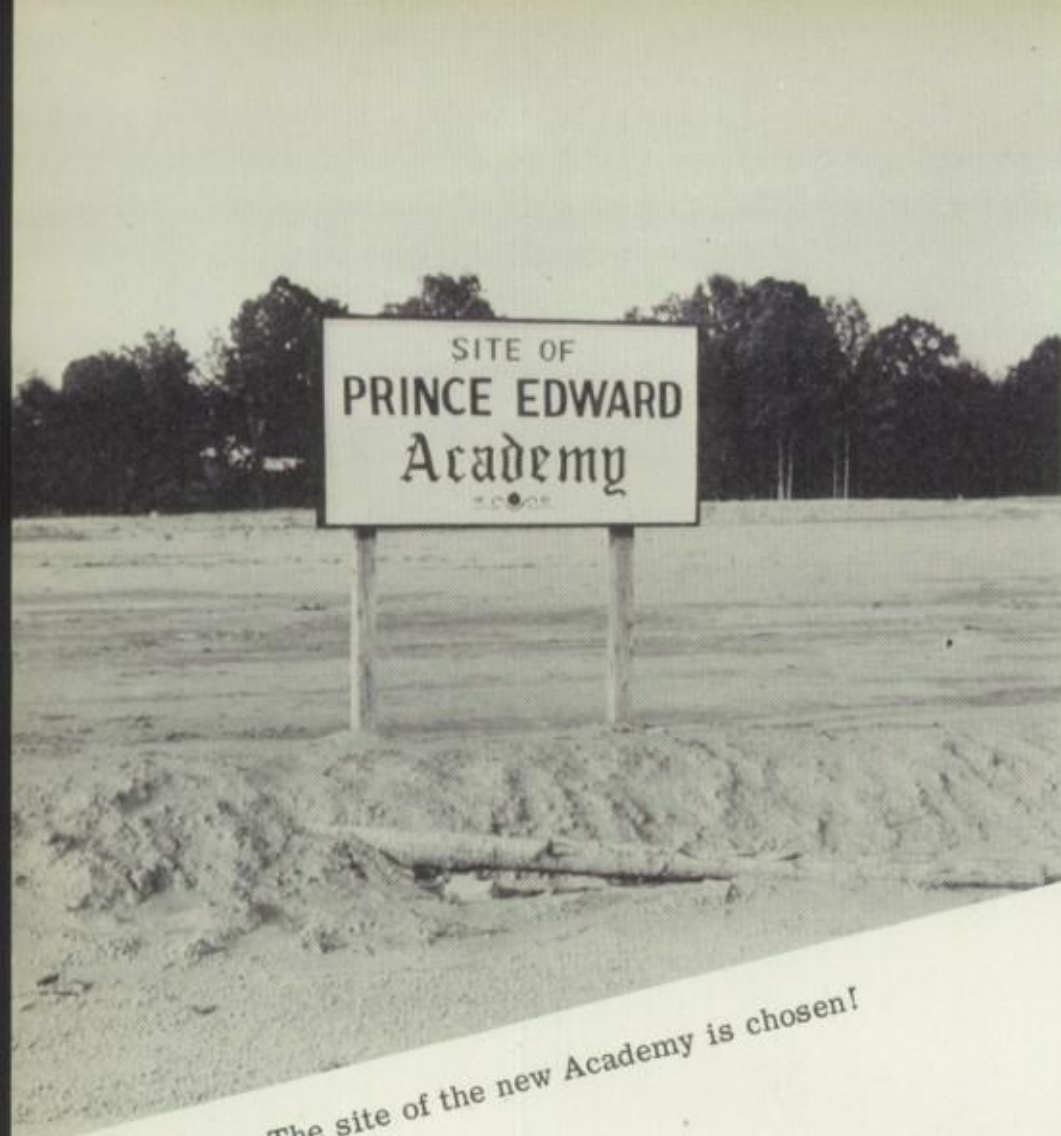

It was no unidentified object that knocked that ball away, it was a Farmville Wolverine!

The Wolverettes battle Buckingham for that rebound!

Many hours a week were spent preparing for that big Friday-night game. The Academy Cheerleaders illustrate this fact above.

The site of the new Academy is chosen!

The bulldozers are engaged to level the land.

Mr. Garrett surveys the land so construction can begin.

The preliminary steps having been completed, the footings are poured.

... the Construction of Construction really got under way with the donation of cinder blocks and bricks by construction companies.

Old-Man Winter puts a halt to the rapid-rising Academy.

This artist's sketch gives us an idea what the completed Prince Edward Academy will look like.

Our New School

... Our Class And

The Seniors are busy at work making money for their New York trip, by selling food at the home football games.

The S.C.A. officers, (L. to R.) Betty B. Smith, Treas; Mike Andrews, Sec.; Jo Leslie Andrews, Pres.; Cliff Jenkins, V-Pres.; Betty Hall, Corres. Sec., eagerly look forward to another successful year.

THE CHEERLEADERS were composed of thirteen girls from the tenth through the twelfth grades. This thirteen-fold force was responsible for igniting flames of spirit and pep where student participation was essential. At many football and basketball games they carried out the true "Wolverine Spirit" and through their efforts, let the boys on the team know they were being supported. Aside from this, the Cheerleaders carried on many of the activities which included keeping the student body informed of coming athletic events, selling season tickets to the football games, and sponsoring social functions—all of which were planned outside of school.

Practice is forever going on.

The Homecoming parade is about to begin,

CAVALIER

Drawing page layouts, writing and typing copy, supervising picture taking, and worrying about deadlines are only a few of the duties of the Editor and her staff. The Business Manager and staff have had their worries, too. Merchants must be visited, ads sold, individual pictures sold, and finally the finished book sold. The CAVALIER staff sincerely hopes that within these pages of the '61 CAVALIER are scenes that "We'll Never Forget . . .".

Our Student Cooperative Association is an organization composed of the student body of Prince Edward Academy. Although it has been unable to function to its fullest capacity again this year, its main objectives are to improve student-teacher-community relations, and to promote better scholarship and citizenship among students. This year, Prince Edward Academy's S.C.A. was proud to lead a discussion group for the State S.C.A. Convention. The delegates we sent did an excellent job representing, proudly, Prince Edward Academy.

Delegates are ready and waiting to leave for the District S.C.A. Meeting in Crewe.

AT SET OF SUN

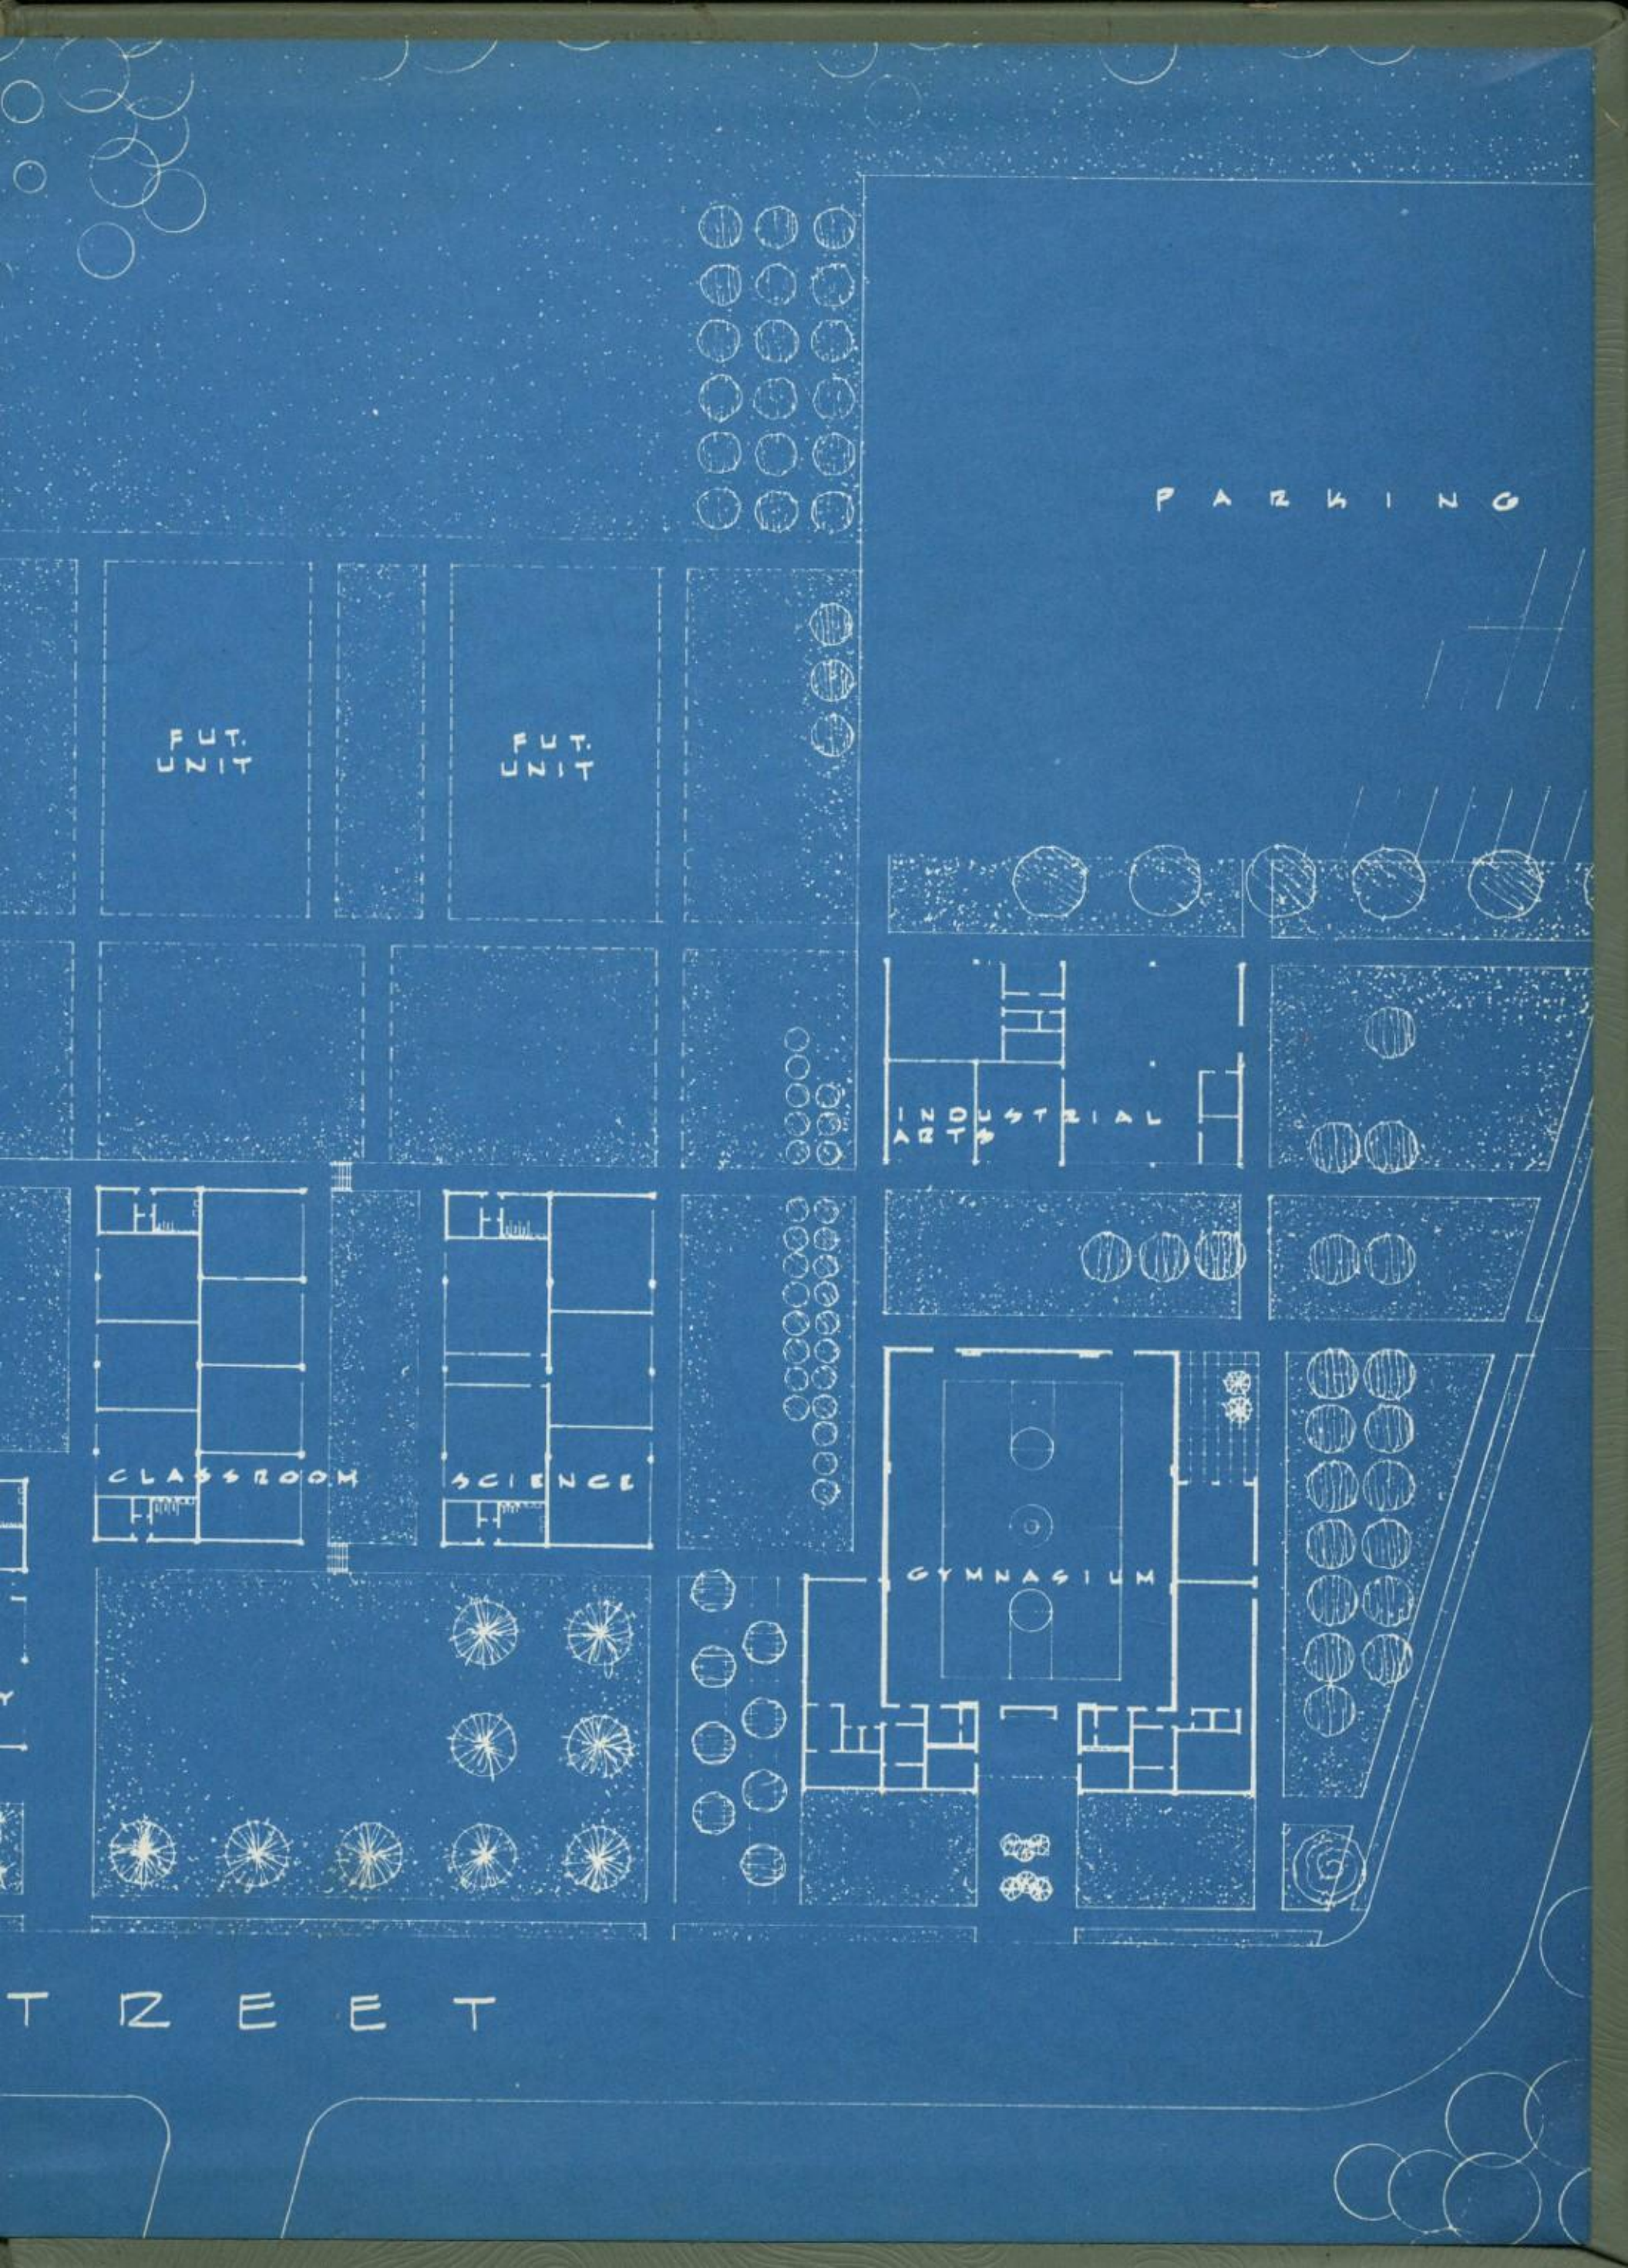

If you sit down at set of sun
And count the acts that you have done,
And, counting, find
One self-denying deed, one word
That eased the heart of him who heard -
One glance most kind,
That fell like sunshine where it went -
Then you may count that day well spent.

But, if, through all the livelong day,
You've cheered no heart, by yea or nay -
If, through it all
You've nothing done that you can trace
That brought the sunshine to one face -
No act most small
That helped some soul and nothing cost -
Then count that day as worse than lost.
